KEEP IT UP!

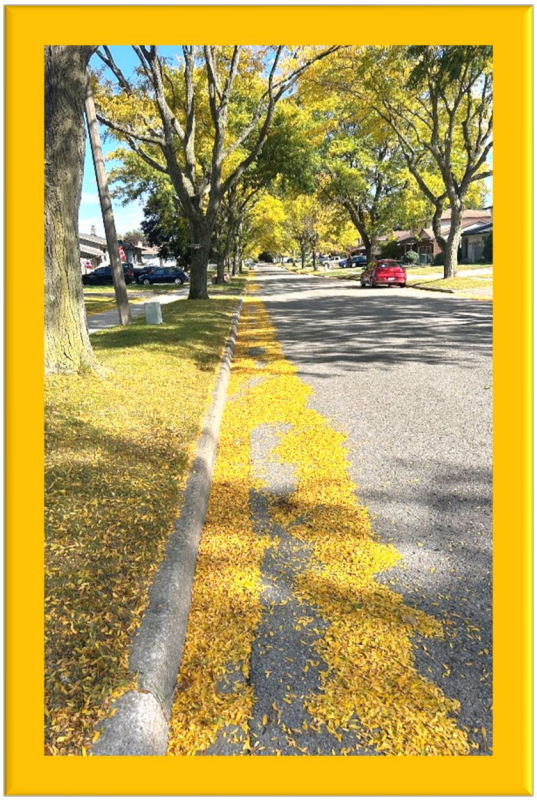

Dare I say, God is the best artist in the world, for only He can create such beauty. We see many artists that try to capture this autumn season on their canvases by painting what they see around them, and they do a wonderful job. However, neither picture nor paint could ever replace the real thing. God's creativity is unmatched, for every day is different.

Fall truly is a beautiful season, and we can become captivated by the colours. I'm sharing a picture of my street with you because I tell my friends I live on a golden pathway enfolded with golden arches this time of year. Every time I turn onto my street I smile at the beauty. My husband is not so happy about having to clean up all these leaves, but I know he enjoys the beauty too.

I am also acutely aware that this time of year brings with it a sense of transition and renewal. Winter is coming and fall can certainly be a time to reflect on the changes in nature, in anticipation of what is to come. But the falling leaves, can also symbolize letting go of the old to embrace new beginnings. This season encourages us to trust in God's timing and prepare for what lies ahead.

As Ecclesiastes 3:1 reminds us, "To everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven," we can find comfort in the beauty of this season and the lessons it teaches us about letting go and embracing growth, because even in the letting go there is beauty. Maybe we shouldn't be so afraid of change, because like the seasons our lives transition and God, "will never leave us or forsake us." (Hebrews 13:5) and His creation reminds us there is beauty in every transition.

My prayer is that you will trust God in your transitions and find the beauty in it all.

Blessings, Major Donna Simms
