Fall Car Quiz Answers to Quiz on Page 2

1. T or F--Avoid driving 2 hours before sunset to reduce chances of hitting a deer. Let them get to bed.
2. T or F--Automatic Climate Control may not work the best for clearing fogged glass on a cold start.
3. T or F--Touch up scraped paint on bumpers to reduce the chances of rust from salt on the streets.
4. T or F--Cold weather means your tire pressure light (TPMS) might go on in the morning. If it goes off later in the day, it's just a weather change, not a puncture.
5. T or F--If you check your car in for service at an auto repair shop with expired tags, you may get a citation and a fine if the car is stopped on a road test.

No skiing zone?

With all the rain we have had, it creates an overwhelming urge to use your car for "water skiing" in the puddles that appear near the curbs.

While this may seem like a great time, it can dislodge plastic liners under the car. Worse yet, it can damage electrical wiring that resides above said liners. (Bad for you, good for us).

Save money, stay in the dry part of the road.

That Maintenance Required Light

Who do you love? Your car has a light to tell you when to get service. Toyota's is set for 5,000 miles and Honda uses a computer program based on regular motor oil.

We've used decades of research to let you know the ideal time for maintenance. We give you date and miles. Service is needed the sooner of the two. Just look up to the left.

Zen Driving Tips

Gasoline is expensive. Zen driving saves money when you are easy on the gas and easy on the brakes. Zen can pay for a Caramel Latte per tank.

When that pokey driver in front of you is driving like your Grandma, mellow out. She might be trying to save the bucket of gravy and the biscuits in the back seat.

When you see Charmin, you know we obsess over every little detail for quality.

Answers to Fall Car Quiz

1. False. Insurance analysis of deer impacts revealed that you are 14 times more likely to hit a deer in the 2 hours after sunset. They aren't looking to sleep. They are running all over seeking to mate. Mating a car with a deer is a bad idea.
2. True. Climate control (CC) cares about temperature. It takes heat to evaporate moisture. CC will often blow cold air on the glass. Clear the glass quickly by adjusting the temp way up for fast results.
3. False. Bumpers are plastic. They won't rust no matter what you do. Nail polish comes in many colors that match cars. It dries quickly and makes a great touch-up invisible from 50 feet.
4. True. Tire pressure expands and contracts with temperature. First really cold day will light up a lot of TPMS lights. Tires heat up as you drive, turning off the light. This is just advance warning, air them up before your little fingers freeze.
5. False. There will be a citation issued, but the driver will be cited for operating a vehicle with expired registration. That would be us.

We won't service any vehicle with expired tags. DMV doesn't always mail a reminder, it may come via email, so you know.

WARNING--There appears to be some confusion over the proper operation of the "Maintenance Required" light. Please use our handsomely hand written reminder stickers to know when to bring in your car. For only $19.95 we can put a piece of tape over the reminder light and it will never bother you again. We do have Dr. Pepper, both real and diet versions, but Sgt. Pepper has died of a lonely heart, or so it was reported. The expiration dates of all our specials can be extended to the end of the year if you just ask. Only one special per visit. No, if you go out the door and come right back in that doesn't count as a second visit.

Save Time, Don't Be Late

We open at 6:30. Drive to our shop when there is no traffic. Pick up a loaner car. Let the Witt Team fawn over it for a spa day.

Return our loaner the next morning when there is no traffic on the roads. Get your car back refreshed and ready for more adventures.

Our Annual Maintenance service is good for a whole year or 8,000 miles. At 6 cents a mile, it is a deal. So call us at 402-434-6961 or online at: www.georgewitt.com/appointments
