TASTING NOTES

"Showing plum, Kalamata olive and eucalyptus followed by darker notes of cacao and anise, with a subtle edge of green pepper. It is still in its infancy, with plenty of life and evolution ahead. Beautiful now, it has everything needed to gain even greater depth and complexity over the next decade or more."

ABOUT THE LABEL

In a storefront lit by neon, robots are offered as everyday conveniences. The scene imagines a future where handing over control feels as ordinary as buying a new appliance, leaving us to decide how much we're willing to surrender.
