After the meeting was called to order, Gray was nominated as Chair and Watkins Vice Chair with approval. Next on the agenda was discussion of charitable organization requests for the 2018-19 fiscal year. Finance Director, Heather Morgan touched on the charitable contributions list which consisted of the organization, fiscal year 2017-18 amount, fiscal year 2018-19 request, budget and finance committee proposed, and county commission approved. A copy of letters from each charitable request was attached. Gray made a motion to let the people who were at the meeting with non-profits to speak. Organizations represented at the meeting: Athletic Association of SC (AASC), Mid-Cumberland HRA, SC Animal Management Program (SCAMP), SC Fire-Rescue, and SC Senior Center. Each of these organizations gave a brief description on how they appreciated the money they received from the county and how it was used. Allen Shepherd representing the AASC stated, "The money we have received from the county helps a lot... I'm proud to be a part of a county that lets us have that much money to help these kids especially." He spoke on how the ballpark has had many improvements and they hope to continue to receive county money. Humane Society of Dover-SC had Susan Baumann representing, she gave a brief description on their organization and mission. She said, "Our mission is to pick up strays, injured animals, or abandoned animals, we can't do them all, we have few volunteers." She also gave a handout to the committee of a recent article in the Stewart County Standard on the humane society. Continued on Page 7

One of the Republican Candidates for Governor, Randy Boyd, stopped in Dover last week on his 95 County Bus Tour. Wednesday, July 11, the bus with his campaign workers stopped for a meet and greet lunch from 12-1 pm at the Stewart County Visitor Center after leaving Houston Co. We didn't learn of the stop until the day before so we couldn't let our readers know. His campaign slogan states, Conservative Businessman, Not a Career Politician. There weren't very many citizens in attendance, there were some local law enforcement and the Henry Co. Sheriff, Monte Belew, who is featured in one of Boyd's TV ads.

“Fill the Bus” for Kids in Need

By LIZ BUTTERMORE

Staff Writer

Stewart County school bus drivers are working on a project, and enlisting aid from anyone in the community that will help, including some churches and F & M Bank, who have already provided aid. Anyone driving past the SC Middle School can see a school bus with a sign on it reading, “Fill the Bus With School Supplies”. SC Transportation Director Eric Watkins said, “The drivers will ‘Fill the Bus’ during their staff development the last week of July. We will accept school supplies or donations to purchase school supplies through July 25. When we get the school supplies, they will be donated to the ‘Back to school Bash’ where they give out the school supplies to those in need.” The “Back to School Bash” will be held July 30, from 4-6 pm, at SCHS, 120 Robertson Hill Rd. Dover, TN. Watkins said anyone can give, and drivers are hoping to fill the bus full. Folks can call 931-232-7342 for more information. School supplies can also be dropped off at the transportation office located at 216 Lakeview Dr. Dover, TN (beside Stewart County Middle School). Watkins went on to say, “Our school bus drivers are doing this to give back a little something to those students and their families they see every day that might need a little help.”

Heated Exchange Over Road at Commission Meeting

By ALEXIS JONES
Staff Writer

The County Commission met July 9, at the Visitor Center at 7pm, immediately following a non-profit committee meeting. Members present included: Mayor-Rick Joiner, and Commissioners Howard Jobe, Eric Watkins, Vince Gray, Terry Fitzhugh, Brian Tiebor, Shane Keatts, Jan Black, Randal Redmon, Philip Castile, Mark Dortsch, and Jimmie Mullins. Marty Blane, Don Cherry, and Andy Luton were absent. Before the meeting was called to order, there was a public comment period. The first comment was by a resident, who explained how her road had too many stray animals, she suggested getting animal control in our county. "I would really like it if you guys would really push the mayor to work with the sheriff enforcing the laws and getting that animal shelter built in the county." Mary Maddox then stepped to the podium with concerns about the counties secondary road policy. She asked the commission if the county has done anything? Joiner responded that the Commission couldn't make any comments during the public comment period. "This only gives the speaker an opportunity to address the commission," stated Larry Watson, County Attorney. Maddox next asked, "Has the county gotten together a list of the roads that need to be repaired?" Watson responded with, "Ma'am this is not a question and answer session, it's strictly where you can come up and address, they don't respond, we are not in session." The meeting was then called to order. Approval of the minutes and quarterly reports were approved by the commission with no discussion.

After other items with little discussion, a road, October Drive, was brought up and was a hot topic. Black asked for October Dr. to be placed back on the agenda prior to the meeting. "I'd like to place a motion on the floor to reconsider the Commission approval of October Road because it does not meet the standards established by the county for a county road," said Black. Watson stated, "Let me ask a question, why doesn't it comply, it's a concrete road?" Black responded with, "It's a concrete road, it doesn't have adequate drainage and it doesn't have the proper support under the road and the county is going to end up having to pay to maintain that road. We have no equipment for the county to maintain a concrete road." Watson then said, "You know that all of you voted to approve that." Black said, "That was because we were told at the time that it met the county standards, it does not." Tiebor then said, "It's not tar and chip and it's not black top." Mayor Joiner then read a letter dated December 17, 2015 to the Commission. The letter's relevance was to inform them what they voted on when this issue first came about. Watkins asked, "Can I make a motion to suspend the rules and let Mr. Jerry Swift (the developer who built the road) speak?" The motion was approved and Swift asked, "I guess what I need to know is what is the problem with the road?" Black responded with, "The problem with the road is that it does not meet standards.. when I spoke with Mr. Page (Current Road Superintendent Gary Page) he told me that he did not approve that road." Swift replied, "I don't know why it wouldn't meet county standards as far as I know, Mr. Page told me that it did.. All I know is the road was approved and to my knowledge it was built by county standards." Watson then asked Black and Tiebor, "Would you agree that the road exceeds the minimum standards?" Black and Tiebor didn't seem to answer Watson's question. Swift made the comment, "I don't know what background Jan has had here as far as roads, but that road is as good as it can be." Swift stated, "It would be foolish to put a ditch there, all you would be doing is damaging the road. I can answer why concrete was put there instead of hot mix." Swift explained hot mix would eventually create a problem and become dangerous and could slide with large trucks coming down the hill. Black said, "If you read the standard, the standard requires ditching.. it's not there." Joiner then interrupted and asked for Ronnie Sumner, (Soon to be Road Superintendent) from the Hwy. department, to come speak. "I've poured concrete all my life, that road doesn't meet the minimum, it's above the minimum. It's far better than any road we've ever done ourselves because we don't have the money to do a road like that. Tar and chip is three quarters of an inch thick, that hill would've already had to be redone," Sumner said. Tiebor repeated to the commission, this wasn't the policy and Sumner replied with, "If you go above it I don't see how anybody could argue." Watson stated, "Mr. Tiebor, let me ask you something, if you win this.. are you going to put him out there and have him tear up that concrete road and put in that much gravel and that much hot mix?" Tiebor raised his voice, "I'm not here to put him out to do nothing, I'm here because this is an illegal issue." Watson replied with, "He got permission from two different road supervisors and both of them said okay to it, all of you guys said okay to it and here we are two years later.. you can't go around and change your mind and say we're going to undo this when there's concrete poured out there, he has exceeded the standards." Redmon stated, "Common sense is the first thing and I've talked to several people that know a lot more about these roads, including any of us, he exceeded that requirement." The mayor then called for anymore questions. Keatts asked for a list of the standards. Joiner asked Sumner to answer. He said, "Has to be a minimum of a tar and chip road or hot mix." Watson was confused on why the committee was even discussing this matter because it was approved by the committee over a year ago. Tiebor suggested the committee can approve and un-approve matters. Watson replied with, "You can't undo that road!" Joiner then asked for a vote. The commission could vote "yes" to reconsider the road or "no" for the road to stay the same. All voted no while Black and Tiebor voted yes to reconsider October Drive. The commission then had little discussion on the old jail being torn down. Joiner touched on the process and how they are trying their best to form a plan of action. The meeting was adjourned.

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Notice of Public Meeting

Public Scoping for TVA's Natural Resource Plan Update

TVA is updating the 2011 Natural Resource Plan (NRP) which guides the work conducted on the public lands and waters entrusted to TVA's management, as well as within TVA's power service area. The 2011 NRP organized TVA's work into six resource areas, but was not inclusive of all of TVA's Natural Resource (NR) efforts. In the 2020 NRP, TVA proposes 10 focus areas that provide a direct line of sight to all NR functions. These focus areas include:

Reservoir Lands Planning – Section 26a & Land Use Agreements – Recreation
Public Land Protection – Land & Habitat Stewardship – Ecotourism
Nuisance & Invasive Species Management – Cultural Resource Management
Water Resource Stewardship – Public Outreach & Information

The proposed NRP update includes more clearly defined strategies, including objectives and programs for each focus area and a flexible approach for long-term planning, which will help TVA be better equipped to prioritize funding and support TVA's mission.

To guide the development of the 2020 NRP, TVA will host an open house public scoping meeting to obtain public input, answer questions and receive comments on August 2, 2018, from 5:00 to 7:30 p.m. at Paris Landing State Park in Conference Room A at 400 Lodge Rd., Buchanan, TN 38222.

TVA is seeking public input to identify issues and concerns that should be analyzed during the environmental review. TVA invites the public to visit www.tva.com/nrp for more information about the proposed NRP update. Comments may be made at the public meetings or by mail or email to the addresses below. Any comments received, including names and addresses, will become part of the administrative record, and will be available for public inspection. Please submit comments by August 20, 2018.

Randy Boyd Meet & Greet

When asked about what he might could do to help Stewart Co. concerning our lack of in-lieu of tax money we receive for all the land owned by the state and federal government located in the county. Boyd said, "Something I could do with the state parks, that I would like to be able to lobby for with the federal parks and federal agencies, unfortunately, with the federal agencies, I can only ask, I can't really make it happen, one thing we would look for is to be able to get concessions. With our state parks, we would be able to let our private developers come and be able to provide more amenities, that will bring additional revenue and additional services to the tourist and additional revenues to the counties. Again, I can do that on state land, but with federal land, I can go and ask, but I can't really guarantee it." Boyd also said he wasn't aware of how TVA money is first sent to the state and then is given back out to the counties, and said he needed to look at that. He added, "We could look at the formula and maybe even look at ways we could take the state out of it. I haven't looked at that enough to be able to say for sure, but anywhere in which we could take the state out of things and let people work directly together is usually a good thing."

Early voting has begun and I want to sincerely thank those supporting me for re-election. I also wish to thank my friends who are also running for the Office of County Mayor. I appreciate the manner in which most of my opponents have carried out their campaigns. Thank you, Gentlemen, for your kindness and respect.

On the other hand, Mudslinging, personal attacks and providing misleading information is not the way most voters want to see candidates act towards each other. We may have different views on issues, but I firmly believe in the "Golden Rule" and respecting each other's views.

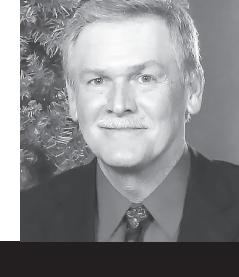

I have been blessed with being the Mayor of our county for many years, and I have learned a great deal and gained valuable experience over that time. When I first took office, I thought I would have the ability to change a lot of things. I quickly learned that what I thought I could do was not necessarily the case. The Constitution of the State of Tennessee has a fundamental "balance of power" principle, which gives county governments multiple executive positions or "Constitutional Officers." This structure was designed by our forefathers to segment our government and break up the power of any one person. This means the Mayor has no authority over the Sheriff, Highway Superintendent, Clerks of the Court, etc. and vice versa. Instead, the Mayor should be an individual that can work closely with other officials and department heads in establishing and maintaining an efficient and strong government. Further, our Tennessee Constitution states that our government is a political subdivision of the state. Therefore, the Mayor must have experience and knowledge of state laws and needs to build strong relationships with our state leadership.

During election campaigns, and for that matter all throughout the year, many statements are made, posted, promised and insinuated in order to further political ambitions of some individuals. Making promises that are against state laws and procedures and providing misleading and inaccurate information to promote one's own agenda is not the way to inform citizens on issues or matters relative to our local government. I encourage citizens to really examine some of the remarks and promises being made this election season. I have always had an open-door policy, and I urge you to contact me if you have any questions about my current leadership and my hopes for the future.

I THANK YOU FOR YOUR TIME. YOUR CONSIDERATION

AND SUPPORT ARE GREATLY APPRECIATED.

Committee Meeting

Gray responded with a question on why the county gives $4,000 to each of three animal organizations: Humane Society, SC Animal Management Program (SCAMP), and SC Faithful Friends Animal Rescue. Baumann wasn't sure, she thought it was set that way to be fair and they each have different roles. SCAMP touched on what they do for our county. "We appreciate the county for what they do and giving us that annual money," said President Lauren Bogard. SC Fire-Rescue mentioned how their fundraisers have improved within the past couple of years. The non-profit committee had many questions for this organization. Next was the SC Senior Center with Sandra Foust representing. She touched on the increases she had requested each year, while receiving no increase at all either year. "I don't go in every year for an increase, it's just when I need something special," Foust said. The SC Senior Center asked for $15,000 the fiscal year of 2018-19 but only received $12,000. The Senior Center is needing new exercise equipment, due to theirs being over ten years old. She also stated, "If I'm trying to get seniors to come to the Senior Center then I have to have to equipment for them to use." Watkins asked what the total budget was. Foust responded with, "My total budget to operate with is $63,439." It was made clear that the Senior Center building is owned by the county. Watkins made a motion to add the $3,000 that was requested by the Senior Center due to Foust's case being very informative. The motion was approved and every other request on the list remained the same. The non-profit committee will send the new change to the budget and finance committee for approval. The meeting was adjourned. Gray stated, "I think the non-profit went really well but like I told the mayor, next year if you're on the non-profit list, you should meet with the non-profit committee in person, and if you don't you shouldn't get any money."

Columbia Cancels Women's Basketball

Carolyn "Peanut" White Finds New College with Same Coach, Same Day

By DANNY PEPPERS

Staff Writer

Blessings sometimes only come after trying times. The Standard has covered Lady Rebel Carolyn 'Peanut' White and her impressive career as a Lady Rebel, up to her signing to play basketball at the next level in April of this year. Her mother, Michelle McClelland informed us last week, "Peanut received a phone call from Columbia State Community College stating they were canceling the woman's basketball program." She contacted Rebel Coach Gilbert Harper to see what could be done to get her to another college, saying, "Peanut was devastated." She added, while on the phone with him, Peanut received a text message and then a phone call from the former Columbia State Coach, Bridget Goodnight. She talked to Peanut, made an offer and Peanut accepted. She will now be going to Judson College, a four year Christian College in Alabama, and playing basketball for them. "This all happened within a matter of a couple of hours so it was an emotional roller coaster for our family. A public statement released from the school, Thursday, July 12, stated, they decided to inactivate the program for one year, in part, because of the coach leaving and the program has struggled. Goodnight said by phone, "It was a difficult decision and I hate it for the players that were returning. I was offered a position at a four year college. I accepted the position in the middle of May and notified Columbia. I finished my contract and my last day was May 31. McClelland said, "Peanut told me she was excited to start this new journey and she thinks it will strengthen her faith and her walk in Christ. I am telling you this has been a blessing in disguise, and one we didn't see coming. For everything to happen the way it did, as fast as it did, I know it was God, and I give Him all the praise and glory for this opportunity for Peanut." Goodnight added, "I wanted to coach her from day one and would have recruited her after her first year at Columbia State, but since they canceled the program for this year it gave me the opportunity to make the offer sooner." White will be getting a better scholarship to play at Judson.

Dover Industrial Board Discusses GH Armor Lease/Jobs

By LIZ BUTTERMORE

Staff Writer

The Dover Industrial Board (DIB) met Monday, July 9 at Dover Town Hall. In attendance were Chairman Steve Douglass, members Bruce Craig, Donald Pride and Gwynn Jones, and City Administrator Kim Wallace. The purpose of the meeting was to approve the one year lease extension agreement for the GH Armor building, owned by SafariLand, makers of body armor. Wallace has been in discussion with SafariLand District Manager Chris Grado, and met with Economic Development as well regarding the matter. The DIB has tried to get a two and three year lease agreement with the company, and decided in the meeting to begin monthly talks toward that end. The object is to get a signed five year lease from the company, which would mean job security for the current 70 employees thus providing for that many families. "It will give them some peace of mind," Jones said. Wallace echoed that sentiment, "Anything we can do to give them job security we will do." Full time employees receive insurance and benefits, and can make $14 per hour. SafariLand, who at present pays no rent, but county and city taxes on the building, approached the Industrial Board for help with repairs on the roof and a door, which a recent TOSHA audit said needed repair. The door will cost about $2,000, and a roof estimate from Wade Dorch Roofing out of Paris is for $161,950 for a 45 mill roof system, and $167,841 for a 60 mill roof system (about $90,000 less than a previous estimate). The board decided to abide by the current lease which states SafariLand is responsible for any repairs to the building. There was no other business, and the meeting was adjourned.

Ft. Donelson Visitor Center Project Still on Hold

By DANNY PEPPERS

Staff Writer

We have reached out to the National Park Service over the last few weeks trying to get updates on the status of when work will resume on the Visitor Center Renovation Project at Ft. Donelson. It has not been easy getting information but it is not looking promising for the project to be finished anytime soon. We first reported in Sept. of 2015, work had started. They moved the Park Visitor Center to the county owned Visitor Center and opened there on December, 08, 2015, and have been there ever since. Park Superintendent Brian McCutchen announced then, "Work has started on a significant renovation project to improve the accessibility, sustainability and safety of the park's visitor center. The project will cost more than $900,000." At that time, National Park Service Curators were packing away historical items to be stored until the center's reopening. We have learned the original contractor, KHDM Construction LLC, is no longer in business after a court battle with a Subcontractor, MidSouth Construction, who said they were not getting paid by KHDM, who in turn said the work on the roof was not satisfactory. The latest court filings in the US Court for the Middle District of Tennessee, state there is an agreed order to stay litigation, during the parties attempt to reach a resolution, filed April 19 of this year. We learned KHDM was awarded the no-bid contract as an 8 (a) Prime Contractor. According to the US Small Business Administration, "The 8(a) Business Development Program is a business assistance program for small disadvantaged businesses. The 8(a) Program offers a broad scope of assistance to firms that are owned and controlled at least 51% by socially and economically disadvantaged individuals." They were able to secure this job in a no-bid process because of their status and were afforded extra protection against being replaced. Superintendent McCutchen told us by email last week, "The contract process continues for moving forward, with a surety working with a contractor consultant who is preparing a proposal to complete this project. In coming weeks engineers will be thoroughly assessing the current site condition, compare and re-analyze drawings, and determine if there is any needed modifications that might be necessary or beneficial. Similarly, per determination of a contractor, or classification of contractor, such is not facilitated at the park level. The process, though, is not at that stage, at this time. It will still be an undetermined amount of time before a direction and schedule is firmly established and on-site work resumes, but the project and work toward proceeding on-site is very active and moving forward." We were also contacted by Dana Soehn, Acting Assistant Regional Director, Communications and Legislative Affairs, Southeast Regional Office of the National Park Service. She sent us an email stating, "I'm assisting in the Southeast Regional Office for a few months and am just getting up to speed on the current situation at Fort Donelson and the visitor center construction project. I've been able to catch up with both Superintendent Brian McCutcheon and also our Chief of Contracting Jeff Shaffer. As Brian shared with you, the process is moving forward and staff are actively working through necessary steps to prepare a proposal to complete the project. After the engineers have completed their assessment of current needs, they will prepare a list of modifications that might be necessary to add to a contract proposal for the remaining work. After this work has been completed, the Contracting Office will start the process of determining the best path forward to contract the needed work and resume the project. At this time, it's simply too soon to share a projected timeline." McCutchen has obviously been excited about this project for the park and could possibly be more disappointed than anyone in the time it has taken. In January of this year, he sent us an email stating, "For almost 10 months, there has been a non-stop process between the National Park Service engineers and contracting professionals, and others involved in the project, to resolve the situation and return to activity on-site. Most everyone in our community knows of what the end benefits of this project will be, and no one wants to see it come to fruition more than my team and I do. The time span of working toward a restart of on-site work has been very frustrating to me and others, as the goal of making this historic but unsafe visitor center fully accessible to everyone. But there is a contracting and negotiation process underway." According to McCutchen, KHDM had proven themselves with the Park Service in previous projects but this was the largest they had done.

Rape Case

Big Rock area. An arrest warrant was served on September 21, 2016, by Investigator David Evans, who has since resigned, with the Stewart Co. Sheriff's Office. Evans said the two were active duty military stationed at Ft. Campbell. "They were acquainted with and did know the victim. It was not a random crime whatsoever," said Evans at the time. The affidavit stated, "On or about September 17, Michael McCaul, 25 years old, who gave a Joiner Hollow Rd. address, and Kyle Scott, 21, who gave a Ft. Campbell address, entered a residence in Big Rock. Once inside the residence the two subjects committed the following crimes: rape, aggravated assault, aggravated burglary, and vandalism. The victim said the two males entered her residence and raped her, during which time an object which she believed to be a pistol was placed against her head. The two subjects then smashed her cell phone and iPad. She was advised by the subjects that she would be killed if she called police." In the investigation into the crime, the two subjects were observed on video entering the roadway and parking in front of the residence in a vehicle matching the description of a vehicle owned by McCaul. The subjects were then observed exiting the vehicle and entering the residence with a key. An interview was conducted with McCaul's girlfriend who provided a statement advising that she was present during the planning of the crime and present after the incident. The Docket shows a motion to sever, or have separate trials, by Scott's attorney, was denied on February 12, 2018.

“Found at the Steps” Filming in Dover

By LIZ BUTTERMORE

Staff Writer

Local Stewart County man, Lane Lewis, son of Donnie and Rhonda Lewis of Indian Mound is currently filming a short film, partially on site in Dover. Stewart County folks should be aware, some filming took place Wednesday, July 11 around 11:30 am on Hood St., between Vine and Church streets behind the SC courthouse. Additionally, Dover Police Chief, Kim Wallace is allowing use of one police uniform and one police car for an individual scene to be shot in the same location, Sunday night, July 15. “A young woman who is left homeless after the death of her parents, struggles with her faith in both God and humanity,” is the synopsis for the film, titled “Found at the Steps.” Three Eighteen Productions, based out of Stewart County, is putting the 15-20 minute film together. Co- Producers Lewis and Kaitlyn Williams are excited about the short film. Lewis, who is also the Director, said the company plans for the film to first have a festival run, and may be released as soon as mid-to-late August 2018. Actor Stephen Shore, who is flying in from New York for a production at the Roxy Theater in Clarksville, will portray the part of the officer, and Williams will portray the lead role in the Christian film.

Town of Dover Discusses Business/City Park

By LIZ BUTTERMORE

Staff Writer

The Town of Dover Mayor and Aldermen met in regular session Monday, July 9. All members were in attendance, as were City and County attorney Larry Watson and resident Laurisa Anglin. The meeting was called to order and the first order of business was hearing from guests. Anglin was in attendance to address the playground at the City Park. Anglin said she and her children love the playground, it's clean and well lit, but would like to see it expanded to include play equipment for older children as well. “I’m sure there’s not a playground fund in the tax money, but there are grants out there,” Anglin said. She mentioned one from Home Depot, for $5,000, and others for different types of equipment. Anglin said she’d like to focus on shade at the area. “When I talked to equipment companies they said that is the number one thing they are getting calls for right now, is shade.” She described sailboat type tension shades attached to concrete pillars that many public parks are installing. “Not only do they make it cooler and the equipment cooler, they provide against sunburns,” Anglin added. She mentioned an $8,000 grant through the American Dermatology Association that helps provide shade options. “We have to have a program in place for a year and we have to have a dermatologist on board with it. All they have to do is come see the site, and write an approval letter,” she explained. Anglin said she’d be willing to spearhead the project, and asked if there is anything like it already in place. City Administrator Kim Wallace said a group was started a few years ago, “Friends of the Park”, but participation and interest waned. “It never really got off the ground, but now more people are interested in going to the park, and with consulting firms, we rate almost a four out of a five with our park,” Wallace said. Both Wallace and Mayor Lesa Fitzhugh noted they’ve received positive feedback in person and on social media about the City Park. Wallace said one area that’s under utilized is the old volleyball field area. Discussion ensued and Alderman Mike Pulley said, “Someone told me that they did some demographics, and that park over there had more visitors than Ft. Donelson last year.” Alderman Robert “Boo” Beecham said, “There were 25-30 people down there a while ago.” Several suggested contacts for Anglin to reach out to regarding playground equipment, and the board moved on to other business, approving the one year lease extension agreement with GH Armor. Resolution 630-18 (a safety grant) was next on the agenda. Last year the “Safety Partners” 50/50 matching grant was used for cones and safety vests for city employees doing road work, and this year it will be used for two officers whose body armor is expiring. The motion passed, there was no other business and the meeting was adjourned.

Stewart county has over 100,000 acres which is controlled by the federal government: (LBL, Ft. Campbell. Corps of Engineers/ TVA up and down the rivers, not to mention Ft. Donelson and TVA Cumberland.) Stewart County is receiving a smaller portion of “in lieu of taxes” than it should be receiving. I believe as Assessor of Property, we can work toward receiving a larger “in lieu of taxes” from the Federal Government and state revenue sharing, which will increase the tax base and decrease the amount of property taxes we individually pay.

JOBS: Work closely with Workforce Essentials & those trying to bring a vocational center to Stewart County, supporting their efforts in every possible way

MORE REVENUE: A more attractive workforce & development through public-private partnerships can increase our tax base. A larger tax base means more financial independence & security

GROWTH: Use public-private partnerships to create equitable incentives for businesses seeking a home here, while protecting Stewart County's interests

CAPITALIZE ON TOURISM: Nature has given us the beautiful land & lakes. We need to recruit businesses that directly & indirectly support the outdoor lifestyle by the Mayor's Office becoming the “Cheerleader-in-Chief” of Stewart County
