STRONG PLAT FORM

Experience the future of logistics and industrial property first hand!

Messe Dortmund and Bundesvereinigung Logistik (BVL) proudly present BUILDINX, the first business platform to cover the entire value chain of innovative logistics and industrial property.

At BUILDINX, you'll meet leading experts and discover all the latest innovations in technology, digital transformation and sustainability in the logistics and industrial property industry. Make the most of this opportunity to grow your network, build valuable contacts and actively help shape the future of the sector.

By taking a wholly collaborative approach and, for the first time, bringing all solutions and component providers and stakeholders together with customers from industry, trade, logistics and investment, the business platform will offer attendees the unique opportunity to come face-to-face with their target audience and explore a wide range of topics.

At the heart of BUILDINX is a fully-integrated conference programme, developed in partnership with BVL's focus on logistics facilities and property at the cutting edge of the sector.

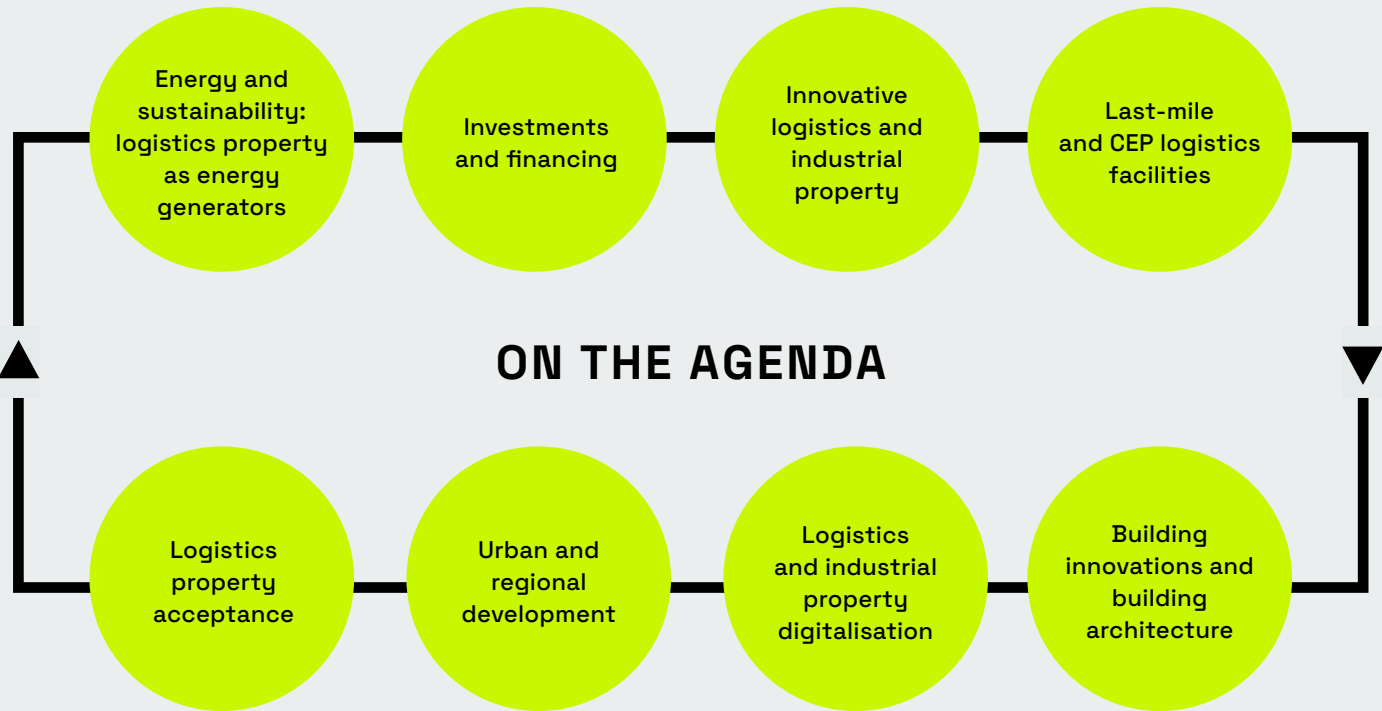

Be part of BUILDINX and help shape the future of the logistics and industrial property market. Book your place today!
