1. INFORMATION WE COLLECT

We may collect information necessary to provide requested services, prepare estimates and proposals, schedule appointments, process transactions, fulfill contractual obligations, communicate with customers, and operate our business. Depending on the services requested, information collected may include:

- Names and business names
- Mailing, billing, and service addresses
- Email addresses and telephone numbers
- Payment and invoicing information
- Vehicle, equipment, property, project, or event-related information
- Records of communications and correspondence

Information submitted through contact forms, quote requests, surveys, applications, or customer portals Information may be collected through websites, online forms, scheduling systems, customer relationship management platforms, email, telephone calls, text messages, social media communications, invoices, service agreements, and in-person interactions. Our websites may also collect limited technical information such as browser type, device information, IP address, and website usage data through analytics and security tools.

2. HOW WE USE INFORMATION

Information collected by P2G is used solely for legitimate business purposes, including:

- Providing requested services and support
- Preparing estimates, proposals, contracts, and invoices
- Scheduling appointments and coordinating projects
- Managing customer relationships and communications
- Meeting legal, regulatory, insurance, and contractual obligations
- Maintaining business and accounting records
- Improving internal operations, customer experience, and service offerings
- Protecting the security and integrity of our business operations

P2G does not sell personal information for monetary compensation. Information may be disclosed to service providers and technology platforms as described in this Privacy Policy and in accordance with applicable law.

3. INFORMATION SHARING

P2G may share information with trusted third-party service providers when reasonably necessary to conduct business operations. Such parties may include:

- Scheduling, invoicing, and customer management software providers
- Payment processors and financial institutions
- Website, hosting, and technology service providers
- Accounting, legal, insurance, and professional advisors
- Government agencies or regulatory bodies when required by law or necessary to perform requested services

Information is shared only to the extent reasonably necessary to provide services, meet legal obligations, or support business operations.

4. DATA SECURITY

P2G maintains reasonable administrative, technical, and physical safeguards designed to protect personal information against unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, or loss. While we take reasonable precautions, no method of electronic transmission or storage can be guaranteed completely secure.

5. DATA RETENTION

Information is retained as necessary to:

- Fulfill service obligations
- Maintain contractual and business records
- Meet accounting, tax, insurance, legal, and regulatory requirements
- Resolve disputes and enforce agreements
- Support legitimate business operations

Retention periods may vary depending on the nature of the information and applicable legal requirements.

6. COMMUNICATIONS

P2G may contact individuals regarding service inquiries, estimates, scheduling, billing, customer support, compliance matters, and other communications reasonably related to requested or ongoing services. P2G may also send promotional communications where permitted by applicable law. Recipients may opt out of marketing communications by following the instructions provided or contacting P2G directly. Opting out of marketing does not prevent necessary service-related communications. P2G will obtain consent for communications when required by applicable law.

7. YOUR INFORMATION AND PRIVACY RIGHTS

Individuals may contact P2G to request access to or correction of personal information maintained about them. Requests for deletion or other privacy-related actions will be evaluated in accordance with applicable law and legitimate business, contractual, and record-retention obligations. Certain individuals may have additional rights under applicable privacy laws. P2G will respond to qualifying requests as required by law and may take reasonable steps to verify the identity and authority of the requester. Privacy requests may be submitted using the contact information in Section 10.

8. COOKIES AND WEBSITE ANALYTICS

P2G may use cookies, analytics tools, pixels, and similar technologies to support website functionality, monitor performance, understand visitor activity, improve user experience, and evaluate the effectiveness of marketing and advertising efforts. These technologies may collect information such as IP addresses, browser and device characteristics, pages visited, referral sources, and interactions with website content. Certain tools may be operated by third-party service providers, including analytics and advertising platforms, subject to their applicable privacy practices. Visitors may manage or restrict cookies through their browser settings and, where available, website privacy controls. Disabling certain technologies may affect website functionality. P2G will provide additional notices, consent options, or opt-out mechanisms when required by applicable law.

9. THIRD-PARTY WEBSITES AND SERVICES

P2G websites and communications may contain links to third-party websites, platforms, or services. P2G is not responsible for the privacy practices, content, or policies of third-party websites or providers. Users should review the privacy policies of any third-party services they access.

10. POLICY UPDATES

P2G may periodically update this Privacy Policy to reflect changes in its operations, information-handling practices, or applicable legal requirements. Updated versions will be published on our website with a revised effective date.
