Jennifer decided at a young age to pursue a career in law. Jennifer told friends and family members since she was a teenager that she wanted to be a divorce attorney. She earned her undergrad degree in Criminology and Political Science from the University of Minnesota-Duluth. She then went on to graduate from William Mitchell College of Law.

Jennifer brings energy and compassion to her work, assisting clients with family law matters. Jennifer provides advocacy through the traditional, court based process and also as a training member of the Collaborative Law Institute, helping clients divorce with dignity and respect. Jennifer listens to her clients to provide an individualized approach that best fits her clients' goals and addresses their concerns.

Outside of the office, Jennifer can be found at the newest craft beer brewery, at a concert, or trying her skills on a boxing bag. Jennifer lives in Maple Grove with her husband and their pug, Frankie, and cat, Penelope.
