

Message from Dr. Halden Shane, CEO

Dear Shareholders,

As we pass the midpoint of 2025, I want to thank you for your continued support and share some highlights of our progress this year. TOMI continues to serve a broad range of industries, with our SteraMist® technology proving its value in sectors where safety, speed, and efficacy are paramount.

SteraMist remains a trusted solution across healthcare, life sciences, government, and commercial sectors. Our unique iHP technology gives us a competitive advantage through unmatched material compatibility, rapid application, and broad disinfection efficacy. We were honored to receive MedTech Outlook's "Disinfection and Decontamination Products Company of the Year 2025" award, a testament to the strength of our platform and its growing recognition.

The life sciences sector is a key area of strategic focus. We recently completed the first successful installation of our SteraMist Integration System – Standalone (SIS-SA) within a pharmaceutical isolator environment. This milestone, combined with our presence at industry tradeshows and deepening relationships with biotech and pharma partners, has positioned us well for future growth in sterility assurance and cleanroom decontamination.

Beyond life sciences, we are seeing strong momentum in food safety, with both new and existing partners expanding their use of SteraMist. We've seen multiple orders from companies including coffee producers, egg white manufacturers, and one of the world's largest food and beverage companies deployed our technology in facilities across the U.S., Europe, and soon South Africa. We are also collaborating on studies to broaden iHP applications, including a conveyor belt treatment targeting pathogens such as Salmonella and Listeria in packaged goods.

We're also seeing strong demand for customized SteraMist integrated building solutions across a variety of facility types. As organizations look to meet stricter health and safety standards, our tailored approach provides flexibility and confidence.

Looking ahead, we remain focused on innovation, partnerships, and expanding our presence in multiple industries. Thank you for being part of our journey.

Sincerely,

Dr. Halden Shane
