CUSTODY SCHEDULE

Maybe she's finally moving on.

You still think about your dad?

Best day ever.

Happy Birthday Dad!

I miss you...

Every day.
I thought he stopped thinking about me.

Happy Birthday Dad!

I miss you...

Best day ever.

You sent every letter back?

I didn't want his messages starting another fight.
I thought I was protecting her.

You silenced the letters and let them mistake silence for rejection.

The truth was never that they stopped loving each other.
It was that neither knew the other was still reaching out.

I never stopped trying

Dear Dad,
I still save you a seat at my school events.
I don't know if you still want to come.

Neither did I.

In a custody dispute, silence can tell a child the wrong story.
Protect their relationship from conflict never make them pay for it.

THE CASE KNOX REFUSED TO TAKE

Name your price. I want my ex left with nothing.

I'm an attorney. Not your weapon.

Everyone has a price!

Then find someone who has forgotten their principles.

How did you get those records?

Your ex-wife came to me for help.

And I'll be representing her.

He hid the assets. She uncovered the truth. Now, justice has a new advocate.

You're going to take her side against me?

I'm going to protect her rights. What happens next depends on the truth.

Money can buy influence. It cannot buy the truth or decide who deserves justice.

THE BIRTHDAY VIDEO

L.M. KNOX
LAW AND MEDIATION

I made her a birthday video. She refuses to watch it.

Are you sure she refuses to watch it?

You've watched this before?

Over and over.

Dad's Visit

Your birthday's coming! I'll see you this weekend. I promise.

My Birthday

Dad... I don't need another promise. I need a reason to believe you.

Every broken promise makes the next one harder to believe.

I'm sorry I missed your birthdays. I kept making promises, and I kept letting you down. You deserved better.

Happy Birthday

You really came?

I'm here, sweetheart. And I know I have to keep showing up not just today.

Children don't need perfect parents. They need parents who show up.

An apology matters. But rebuilding trust begins when your actions finally match your words.
