OUR SUNDAY SCRIPTURE

~The Lord said to her in reply, "Martha, Martha, you are anxious and worried about many things. There is need of only one thing. Mary has chosen the better part and it will not be taken from her."
 ~Luke 10:41-42

KERMIS 2025

Our 14th Annual Kermis will be Sunday, August 31. We are still accepting your notice of donations for the Silent Auction and the Live Auction. Call the Parish office (920-825-7555) or e-mail us at stfrancis@centurytel.net. The Kermis Books will be out soon. Also, consider donating a bottle or two of wine for the Wine Pull. There is a basket at the front entry where you can put the bottles. Watch for sign-up sheets in a couple of weeks -- think about volunteering at the Park and donating a decadent dessert!

Religious Education News

*Thank you to all who helped with this week's Vacation Bible School. There was a lot of learning, joy, and fun!
 *The Religious Education program will resume in the fall. We are looking for a 3rd grade teacher to join our team of dedicated catechists. If you have an understanding of your faith and a desire to nurture the spiritual growth of young minds, this is a position for you. All materials and support will be provided. If you think you are interested, contact Penny Price at stfrancis.stmaryre@gmail.com

Shepherd's Thoughts

On this Sixteenth Sunday in Ordinary time, we are once again reminded to exercise the virtue of generosity. I am grateful to God because our parish has been blessed with generous parishioners who are genuinely supportive to the spiritual and temporal needs of our Church. I am a witness to it and even my family can attest to that. We are all living witnesses of each other's goodness and we are humbled by your kindness and generosity.

Now, reflecting on the first reading today, it expresses to us how Abraham received his visitors with such graciousness and kindness. This calls for us to do the same as God teaches us to do good to our neighbor as portrayed by Abraham's hospitality. "Now that you have come this close to your servant, let me bring you a little food, that you may refresh yourselves; and afterward you may go on your way" (Gn 18:1-10a).

Our Responsorial Psalm, meanwhile, helps us better understand that "He who does justice will live in the presence of the Lord" (Ps 15:2-3, 3-4, 5). No matter what happens, all of us want to be pleasing in God's eyes. Thus, this continuously urges us to treat our neighbors with love and equality and not to take advantage of the vulnerabilities of the lowly and the innocent.

Meanwhile, our second reading prompts us to be good stewards bringing to completion what God wills for His people, His Church. Thus, we are invited to unite ourselves in the redemptive suffering of Jesus which allows us to partake in the salvific mission of Christ for the entire humanity. "But now it has been manifested to his holy ones, to whom God chose to make known the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; it is Christ in you, the hope for glory. Col 1:24-28).

How many times have we found ourselves delaying our faith because we are too busy attending to the world? This is how our Gospel today relates to us in the person of Martha and Mary. We are called to make ourselves more present to matters pertaining to God. As Jesus Himself said, "Martha, Martha, you are anxious and worried about many things. There is need of only one thing. Mary has chosen the better part and it will not be taken from her" (Lk 10:38-42).

May the good works shown by Martha lead us to see even more what is most essential to our faith. May it lead us to choosing what God wills for us to do. Like Mary, May we also learn to choose wisely what is necessary for the good of others rather than just for our own sake. Thus, this urges us to do what God wills for us and to listen to His voice more closely.

Every Sunday of this Jubilee Year of Hope, we pray that our heart's desires compound with actions that proclaim our love for God. May we all learn to give the best and the highest value to what belongs to God.
