Shepherd's Thoughts

God is good, all the time! All the time, God is good!

The Feast of the Baptism of the Lord brings to completion the unfolding of God's self-revelation that began at Christmas and Epiphany. Today, heaven opens, the Holy Spirit descends, and the voice of the Father is heard. We are drawn into the very heart of who God is; Jesus is revealed as the Beloved Son of the Father, the promised Messiah, the Incarnate Son sent through the power of the Holy Spirit to conquer sin and death through divine love poured upon us.

The first reading from the prophet Isaiah prepares us for this great mystery. The Lord declares, "Here is my servant whom I uphold, my chosen one with whom I am pleased" (Is 42:1). This Servant is gentle yet strong, humble yet faithful, chosen not for domination but for loving service. In Jesus, this prophecy is fulfilled. He steps into the waters of the Jordan not because He needs purification, but to stand in solidarity with our sins and to sanctify the waters of baptism for our salvation.

This feast turns our gaze to our own baptism for us to ponder on this sacred sacrament, allowing us to share the same dignity as sons and daughters of God, marked as His own and made heirs of His Kingdom. Baptism is not simply a ritual of the past but a living identity that must shape our daily lives. We honor this gift when our words and actions reflect love, fidelity, and obedience to God. As God's children, baptized into Christ, our Sunday liturgy becomes a joyful celebration of new life, redeemed by Christ's Blood and nourished by His saving presence in the Eucharist, uniting us more deeply with Him and with one another.

In the second reading, from the Acts of the Apostles, Peter reminds us, "God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Spirit and power" (Acts 10:38). This same Spirit has been poured into our hearts at baptism. The Spirit strengthens us to persevere in faith, resist sin, and bear witness to Christ in the ordinary circumstances of life. We are baptized not only to be saved, but to be sent—sent to continue to share Jesus and His mission of love and service.

The Gospel crowns this celebration with the Father's own declaration: "This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased" (Mt 3:17). In Christ, these words echo over each of us. As baptized children of God, we raise our voices with the psalmist: "The LORD will bless his people with peace... Give to the LORD glory and praise" (Ps 29:1-2, 9-10).

May this feast renew our gratitude for the gift of baptism and strengthen our resolve to live as true children of God, redeemed in Christ and guided by the Holy Spirit.

Reflection Line:

At the waters of the Jordan, God reveals His Son and renews our own identity as His beloved children.

Takeaway Thought:

Remember your baptism daily—live as one claimed by the Father, strengthened by the Spirit, and sent to bring Christ's peace and love to the world.
