

Family Life Brainstorming Questions

Here's How You Get Started

Become a dream maker! Articulate all the details you can on how your calling makes you feel, day in and day out. Stay out of your head and follow your heart. Picture yourself:

♥ Would you like to get married?

♥ Are you doing the things that will position yourself to be “lucky” to meet that special someone?

♥ Do you want to get divorced?

♥ Are you considering a divorce and need to spend time alone to gain some clarity?

♥ Do you want children?

♥ What does your family life look like in your ideal world?

♥ Do you plan activities that are mutually enjoyable for all of you?

♥ Do you live your life to the fullest? If not, why?

♥ Despite the number of years you've spent with your partner, do you still want the same things in your life, moving forward?

♥ Are you questioning your sexual orientation or identity?

♥ How do you define family?

♥ Do you feel fiscally responsible for family members?

♥ Is it your pleasure, or a source of resentment, handing money out to others?

♥ Do you know how to create healthy boundaries?

♥ Can you set up dates and activities that work best for you and your family to get together?

In my book Awaken Your Wealth, I share my very best professional advice on financial planning, savings, investments, and insurance. This includes the following observations from my personal and professional experiences:

- ♥ Feeling + thinking = financial healing.
- ♥ Thinking includes dreaming big about your life and seeing that your potential truly has no limitations.
- ♥ Feeling is experiencing the emotions pulsating through your body and allowing yourself to visualize what it will be like living those dreams right now—so you feel as if they have already materialized.
- ♥ Express gratitude for the fulfillment of your dreams and give thanks as if they are already manifested—and they will!
