A Few Words From Fr. Dariusz

The history of Our Lady of Angels, Assisi, Italy goes back to the 13th Century.

As we honor Mary on this feast, I would like to share the history of this feast with you.

Our Lady of Angels, or of the Portiuncula, is located six hundred yards from the city of Assissium, in Italy. It was a desolate locality, and apparently an unsettled one where robbers and the lawlessness flourished. For the Benedictines who had lived at the monastery they felt it was too hazardous to remain there. They abandoned the monastery, relocating to Mount Subasio, which was a fortified monastery.

The original chapel is thought to date from the 4th Century, and was built by holy hermits who had come from the Valley of Josaphat. It is said that they brought relics of the Blessed Virgin with them to the region when they constructed the chapel.

The history of the feast is inspiring. St. Francis of Assisi in the early days of his conversion, while he was still uncertain as to what path to pursue, was praying earnestly for enlightenment before the crucifix at the Church of San Damiano, when he heard within him the command of the Crucified: "Build up my house, for it is nearly falling down." Taking the words literally, Francis began to restore San Damiano and other dilapidated churches in and near Assisi. The most famous of these was the church of Our Lady of the Angels.

Some time after the restoration of this little chapel, an angel told St. Francis to come to the Church of Our Lady of Angels, or Portiuncula. There he found Our Lord, His Blessed Mother, and the Angels waiting for him. Our Lord commended Francis, because of his zeal for the salvation of souls, and promised to grant him whatever he should ask in behalf of sinners. St. Francis asked for this great favor: that all those who came to this church to pray and, truly sorry for their sins, confessed them, should "Obtain in perpetuity a plenary indulgence" so that they would have nothing to account for when God called them. This was the great favor he asked, but Our Lord granted it to him through Mary.

When Saint Francis came upon the little, run down and abandoned chapel of Our Lady of Angels, or Santa Maria degli Angelis, in the year 1208, it was almost completely hidden in shrubs and dense growth of bushes. Saint Francis entered the hidden church, which measured only twenty-two feet by thirteen feet, and saw the ancient fresco that had been placed above the main altar. It was an image of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin surrounded by angels. Some say that this is why the chapel was named Our Lady of Angels, although there are also legends that angels could often be heard singing there.

As we honor Our Lady of the Angels in this Church named in her honor, may we grow in our relationship with the Lord and follow the example of St. Francis in his love of Mary especially under the title of Our Lady of the Angles.

Today's readings are dealing with possessions. The question remains what really should make us happy, earthly possessions, or the spiritual treasures in heaven?

The First Reading from the Book of Ecclesiastes questioned what we as mortals get from all the toil and strain that we endure under the sun, when at death, we must leave everything behind for someone else to enjoy it. They did not work for all that wealth that they inherit. That is "vanity" in the sense of "worthlessness." What good is something if we cannot enjoy it?

It is different for those who toil for spiritual labor. Their recompense is being accumulated with God. Their rewards are awaiting them on the last day. Their spiritual treasures will never depart from them. The Second Reading affirms this. We heard the advice of Saint Paul who said in his Letter to the Colossians that they need to seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated at the right hand of God.

We know that life does not consist in the abundance of possessions then, how do we accumulate spiritual treasures in heaven? We accumulate

In the Gospel, Jesus gives us an example of a rich man whose land produced a bountiful harvest. A rich and meaningful life cannot be drawn out of an abundance of material possessions. In the Gospel Jesus says, "Do not store up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust consume and where thieves break in and steal; but store up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust consumes and where thieves do not break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also."

It is obvious that possessions, although they are passing, have a strange influence on the human mind. Once again, we should look at our lives and try to balance for ourselves, so the earthly treasures are not in our way to the Kingdom of God.

May God bless all of us.

God of peace,

We pray for those who have served our nation and have laid down their lives to protect and defend our freedom.

We pray for those who have fought, whose spirits and bodies are scarred by war, whose nights are haunted by memories too painful for the light of day.

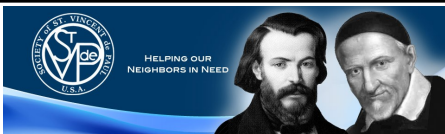

We pray for those who serve us now, especially for those in harm's way. Shield them from danger and bring them home.

Turn the hearts and minds of our leaders and our enemies to the work of justice and a harvest of peace.

Spare the poor, Lord, spare the poor! May the peace you left us, the peace you gave us, be the peace that sustains, the peace that saves us.

Christ Jesus, hear us!
Lord Jesus, hear our prayer! Amen.

Eighteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

In the Gospel, Jesus tells the parable about the rich man who selfishly stored aa his grain and goods only to die and not enjoy his abundance anyway. What we struggle all our lives to learn is that life does not consist of possessions nor our perceived security. But of being possessed by God.
