

Written by Alexandra Diaz

Edited by Matt Sosler

PATERSON, N.J.- The New Jersey Jackals (8-17) fell to the Brockton Rox (10-14) 7-0.

The Rox got on the board first in the second inning when Evan Giordano scored on a wild pitch, making it 1-0.

In the third, Brockton extended their lead to 2-0 with a Jack-Thomas Wold solo home run. They added two more in the fourth with a two-run home run off the bat of Tommy Kretzler, which doubled the margin to 4-0. Wold hit his second home run of the game in the fifth inning, making it a 5-0 game in favor of Brockton.

In the seventh, the Rox added on two with a RBI-double from Giordano, and a RBI single from Derek Bender, making it 7-0.

The Jackals had five hits tonight, four of which were singles, from Luis Acevedo, Ryan Ford, Miguel Gomez, and Sam Seeker. Trevor Sheehan had a double.

Jackals starter Kevin Zarnoch (L, 0-2) lasted five innings, giving up five runs on five hits, and striking out four. Tommy Lawrence entered in relief, and threw two innings, giving up three runs on four hits. Ryan Hynes was next out of the bullpen for New Jersey, throwing two innings. He struck out three and walked one.

Rox starter Jared Henry (W, 3-3) rode a perfect first trip through the Jackals lineup en route to tossing five innings, striking out seven and giving up two hits. He was relieved by Zach Eldred (Sv, 1) who threw four innings, striking out two and giving up two hits.

The Jackals are back in action tomorrow for the rubber game against the Rox. First pitch is scheduled for 2:05 PM E.T.