

Speaker: Michelle John

About Michelle:

Michelle is the Founding Director of PEGS, and has become a leading voice on the topic of Child to Parent Abuse. Michelle and her team have supported thousands of parents, carers and guardians impacted by this often-hidden form of domestic abuse in the past five years, alongside training professionals, influencing local and national policies, and raising awareness.

Media articles and appearances include:

Key achievements:

- Consultant for the Home Office on the statutory guidance associated with the Domestic Abuse Act 2021
- Consultant for BBC's EastEnders and Channel4's Hollyoaks dramas
- CPA Covenant creation in partnership with the Department for Work and Pensions
- Launching the annual CPA Awareness Day
- Annual conferences reaching a global professional audience
- Two successful applications to the National Lottery Community Fund for three-year project grants

Awards include:

Keynote topics:

Michelle is happy to speak on any element of Child to Parent Abuse, including research and best practice, anonymous case studies, and how support can be improved in the future. This can be done on a broader basis or adapted specifically for sectors such as social care, healthcare, education etc.

Michelle is also able to speak about topics relating to launching and running a social enterprise.

Please note, while she is happy to disclose she is an expert by experience, Michelle does not publicly discuss the details of her own experience of CPA.
