

How to Invite Your Teen to CHADIS

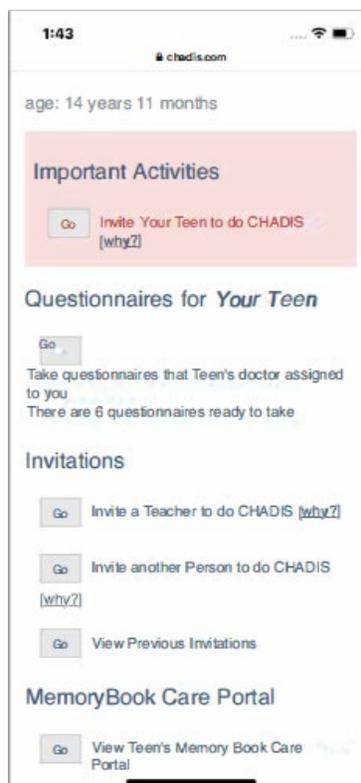

Why Invite Your Teen?

A questionnaire from teens provides clinicians with valuable information to diagnose and manage health or developmental/behavioral concerns.

It is the policy of the American Academy of Pediatrics that teenagers should provide information to their doctor independently of their parents and also have private time with their doctor. It is time for them to start speaking up for themselves and their health depends on their ability to do so. In fact, teens tend to answer more honestly using a tablet or computer.

How Do I Invite my Teen?

1. Log into your PCC portal and select the 'CHADIS Home' button.
2. Select the appropriate child by clicking "Go" next to your teen's name.
3. Click "Go" next to Invite "your teen's name" to do CHADIS

4. Fill out the information requested. We recommend entering whatever method the teen will most likely use!
 - a. Leave the 'Self/Patient' relationship selected.
 - b. Please note, Completing the Email Notification and Text Message Notification is optional. If you do not have the teen's email address or cell phone number, you will still be able to provide the teen with the required information. Leave the Email and Text Notification section blank.
5. Once you've filled out the form, click 'Create Invitation'. CHADIS will send the invitation to the teen by email or text, depending on your selection.
6. A printable CHADIS Invitation Card will appear.
7. If you'd like, you can hand the printed page to the teen. Scroll down to the bottom of the page and click Print.
8. After printing the page, click Continue and you will be taken back to your child's CHADIS Detail page.
9. You may log out or Take Questionnaires if needed.
10. Your teen will go to www.chadis.com and click on Register. He or she will enter the specific invitation code and complete the registration process. Once logged in, appropriate questionnaires will be available for the teen.
