February 2026 Updates, Events & Opportunities in Our Parks

JOIN OUR TEAM: SEASONAL HIRING

Parks & Recreation is hiring seasonal staff to support programs, camps, and park operations. Positions are ideal for students, young adults, or anyone seeking flexible, part-time work. Hiring runs February 2–17, with applications accepted online or in person. First year applicants start at $12.50 per hour.

WELCOME TO A NEW SEASON IN OUR PARKS!

January reminded us just how unpredictable winter can be, but it was also a time when we begin laying the groundwork for a busy and exciting year ahead. As we look toward spring, we're excited to share what's coming in Parks & Recreation, along with a few important reminders to help everyone enjoy our parks safely this season.

WHAT'S NEW THIS SEASON

As we move through winter and look ahead to a new season, Parks & Recreation continues to focus on both caring for our existing spaces and planning thoughtfully for what's next.

WINTER PLAYLIST

Warm up your winter with our curated Spotify playlist, Winter, now live under City of Dickson Parks. Featuring cozy classics and feel-good favorites, it's perfect for crisp park walks, quiet mornings, or dreaming ahead to spring. Give it a listen, save it, and let it be the soundtrack to the season.

We've been hard at work behind the scenes this winter, laying the groundwork for an exciting year ahead. While the season has kept us bundled up, our team has stayed focused on planning, collaboration, and creativity. From thoughtful conversations to team check-ins, every effort is helping shape what's to come. A big thank you to our staff. You make it all possible.

Our parks may look a little different in winter, but they remain an important part of our community year-round. While colder weather slows things down outdoors, planning and preparation continue. Visit our website to stay connected and learn more about what's coming next in Parks & Recreation.

Our team is actively working on inclusive and accessible programming, ensuring future activities and events meet the needs of all community members. At the same time, we are conducting facility assessments following recent winter weather to identify areas that may need attention or repair.

Community feedback continues to play an important role in shaping our work. Program updates and improvements are being guided by what residents have shared with us, helping us create offerings that better serve Dickson families. Looking ahead, early planning is underway for spring and summer events and programs.

While details will be shared in the coming months, preparations are already in motion.

We remain committed to maintaining our parks today while thoughtfully planning for the future, keeping our spaces safe, welcoming, and ready for the seasons ahead.
