The Chaldean News reports news in the community and seeks to inform and educate its readers and connect the community as a whole.

The Ark Angel Fund was created to support early start-up businesses and make investments in emerging companies that will make a difference in this region. The Fund is invite-only to accredited investors and is managed by a wholly owned subsidiary of the Chaldean American Chamber of Commerce.

The CPN is where young entrepreneurs, recent graduates, and experienced professionals come together to promote education and unity while encouraging the entrepreneurial spirit and work ethic for which Chaldeans are known. This group is inclusive, promoting educational and professional opportunities for all Chaldeans. The committee goal is to lead, inspire, and mentor through networking events and educational forums with well-known business leaders and top CEOs.

Strength IN ADVOCACY

The Chaldean Chamber Political Action Committee (PAC) is tasked with enhancing the community influence in Lansing on issues that affect the Chaldean community and member businesses. The mission is to put community and member concerns foremost in legislator's minds.

The Civil Liberties Advocates (CLA) mission is to serve as community champions and mediators on matters of alleged discriminatory practices. The vision is to fight against ethnoreligious bigotry while securing fair and just negotiated resolutions.
