

“Conversations with God”

A devotional book of daily prayer prompts to help you open up in your conversations with God

Spirit of Life, show me where to use my gifts...

INTRODUCTION

I'll admit, sometimes I'm not so good at remembering to pray. I remember before most meals I eat, but not all of them. I will sometimes start my days intentionally with prayer, but not always.

I'm guessing you might be in a similar position. Our lives can be so busy, rolling along to a familiar rhythm and so we don't remember to take time to pray.

Or, we don't know what to pray and how to pray.

As a Pastor this has been an issue explained to me on many occasions. People don't know how to pray and so they don't.

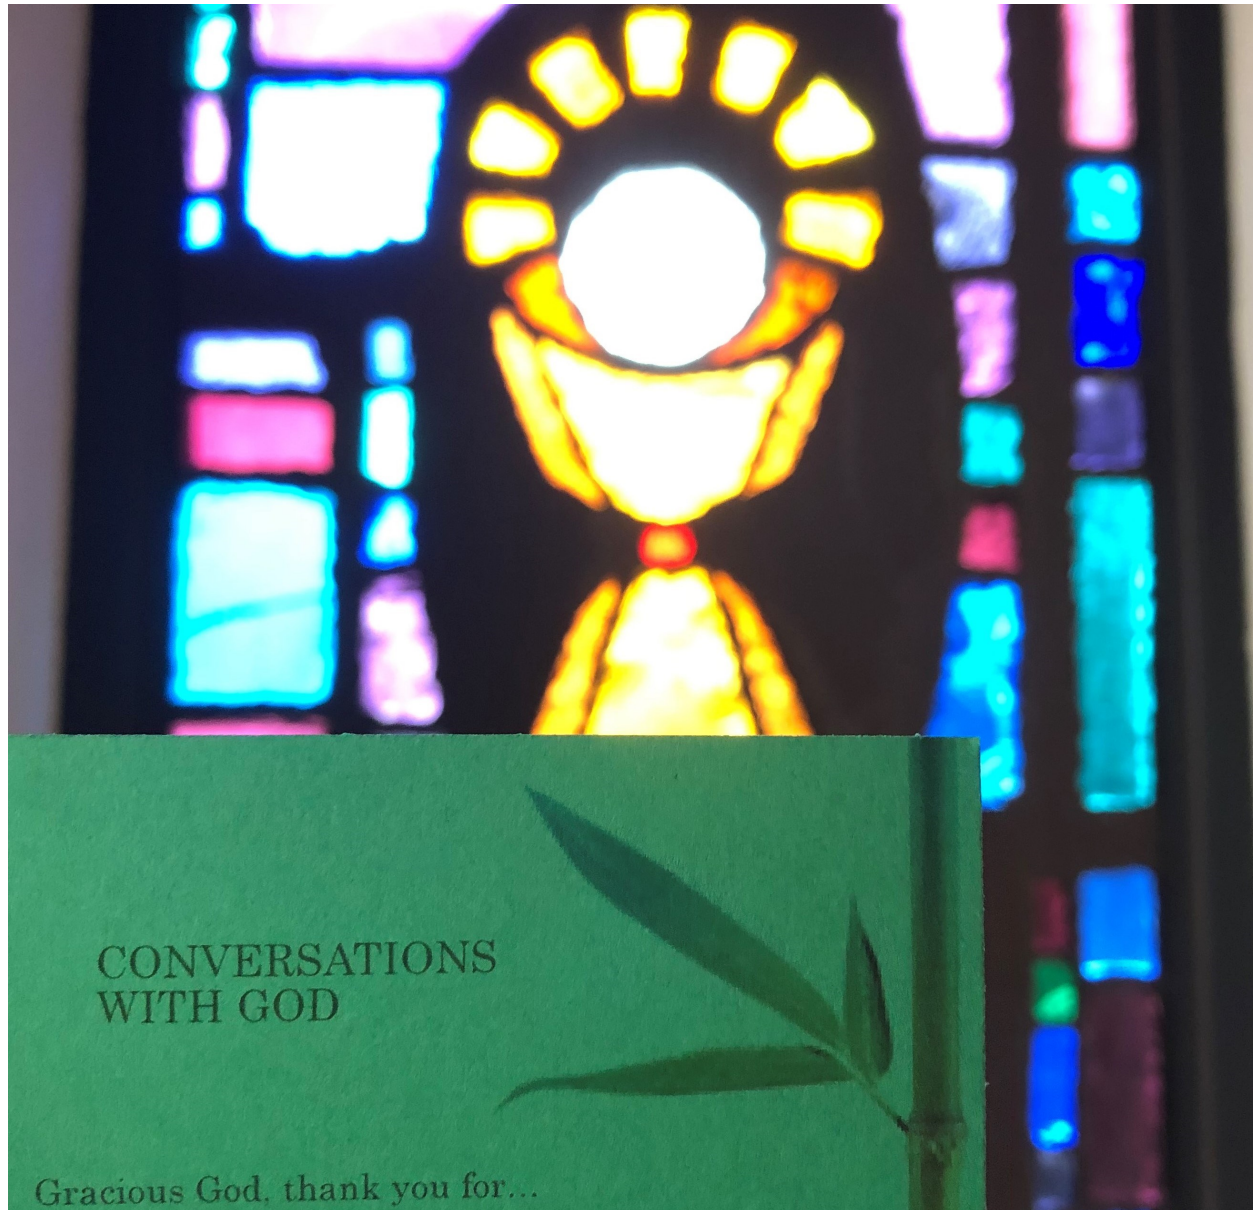

That's why I created this devotional book. In the pages that follow are different prayer prompts that have been designed as conversation starters. Because that's all that prayer is, it's a conversation with God about what you are thinking and what you are feeling.

The truth is that God wants to be in relationship with us and prayer is one of the simplest ways we have for growing that relationship. When we take time to share with God our honest thoughts and feelings our connection with God grows and our life is slowly transformed.

So, I invite you to use this book whenever you're feeling that pull to connect with God. Flip open to a page that catches you and start a conversation with God and notice how your life begins to transform.

Peace and Grace,

Pastor Nate
