

Code of Conduct:

To accomplish the objectives of the Valkyries Hockey organization all participants— players, parents/guardians, and coaches are expected to support a positive team attitude, display good sportsmanship and conduct themselves in a manner that reflects positively on the game and the team in all of our activities and events at all times. Not only are the expectations of conduct important for the development of these values in our players, but they are also important because they reflect on our organization. In consideration of your daughter playing for the Valkyries you and her agree to abide by the rules and the code of conduct set forth herein. These rules extend to all activities and events the Valkyries participate in, including but not limited to practices, games, travel to and from events, tournaments, or camps. Violation of the following rules may be subject to disciplinary action as deemed appropriate by the coaches and/or Valkyries Board of Directors and may include loss of playing time for a player, removal from practice, or sent home from tournaments or games.

A. Parents

1. Be Positive. Refrain from criticizing anyone during games or practices. Use your influence as a parent and role model to build team spirit and values for your player and his teammates.
2. Support the Coach.
3. Your daughter is the player on the team, for questions about playing time, positions, game strategy, tactics or topics that are related to the team please refer to the Section III-B in the Policies and Procedures document - If there is some significant concern, address it respectfully with the coach away from a practice or game and when the players are not present.
4. Please respect the Referees, off-ice official, both teams coaches, and let the Coach address them as necessary.

I acknowledge receiving a copy of the Valkyries Policies and Procedures to include the Code of Conduct and agree to abide by the terms of this document.
