“

I was very impressed with the exceptional and insightful content provided by Simon and his team. They have successfully taken on and consolidated our supply of utilities across our portfolio, creating cost efficiencies and allowing us to focus our efforts on our clients and expansion goals. I would highly recommend their services to other ASAP members.

Dominic Mundie,
Financial Controller, Be London.

Be London initially partnered with a procurement management company to manage energy costs. However, as their portfolio grew, the broker struggled to provide the necessary support for the increasing number of sites. Acknowledging the complexities involved in managing energy contracts for such a large portfolio, the broker referred them to us, given our knowledge, expertise, and experience in handling more extensive portfolios.

We conducted a thorough review of Be London’s portfolio, which includes 80 properties and over 90 gas and electricity meters. Simon Linden and his team identified several opportunities to streamline energy costs and consolidate suppliers where possible. As a result, we achieved significant savings for Be London, reducing their annual energy expenses by £12,080. Be London will continue to benefit from our ongoing support, allowing them to focus on expanding their business while Full Power manages the complexities of their energy contracts.
