Melbourne

Delivered once again, complete with a dedicated snack area. Starting the morning right with a warm cuppa and a classic bickie—because nothing beats gathering around the table with good company, a hot drink, and a tasty treat for a proper, heartfelt chat.

SYDNEY

We marked R U OK? Day the way we know best — with a coffee, a smoke, and some real talk. It's in those quiet moments that people open up, whether they're riding high or doing it tough.

Mental health matters every day, not just once a year. So if someone seems a little off — a mate, a colleague, even yourself — take a minute, have a chat, and check in. Because asking "R U OK?" could be the most important thing you do today.

We fired up the BBQ for a sausage sizzle extravaganza, bringing together our legendary crew from the Workshop, Agency Shed, Yard, Ops and the Office. It was a feast of snags, smiles, and chats. Lolly bags bursting with goodies were made up, so our drivers didn't miss out and could enjoy a little party-on-the-go. A huge, icing-covered THANK YOU to the fabulous Trish Cain for sprinkling joy across depot with her renowned delicious biscuits and cupcakes!

RU OK? DAY

Swan Hill Depot got its yellow on for R U OK? Day!

We served up good vibes, great chats, and even better snacks — because nothing says "let's talk" like an egg & bacon sanga or a cheeky slice of cake with your morning brew.

Superstar of the Day Angela Conway, absolutely nailed it with her decorations and those brilliant coffee cup creations.

A massive shout out to everyone who joined the info sessions — yard crew, workshop legends, and office champs alike.

Thank you.
