

Welcome to Radford School.

As an alumnus, I know firsthand what makes this place special. Radford has always been a school where students are known, challenged, supported, and encouraged to become the very best versions of themselves. That spirit is at the heart of who we are, and it will remain at the heart of where we are going.

We are entering an exciting new chapter for Radford. Together, with the leadership of our Board, the dedication of our faculty and staff, the partnership of the RPTO and our families, and the support of our alumni and community, we have an opportunity to build on everything that has made Radford great while preparing our students for an ever-changing world.

Our focus will be simple: excellence, accountability, and opportunity.

We will challenge our students to work hard, take responsibility, lead with character, and strive to be their best. We will support our educators with the resources and trust they need to focus on what matters most: teaching, inspiring, and helping students grow. And we will continue strengthening the foundation of our school so that Radford can grow and thrive for generations to come.

At the center of it all is our enduring motto:

I learn so that I may serve.

Those words remind us that education is about more than achievement. What we learn should shape who we become and how we contribute to the world around us. We want our students to leave Radford with knowledge and confidence, but also with character, compassion, and a sense of responsibility to something greater than themselves.

That is the future we will build together.

Radford's greatest strength has never been a building, a program, or a tradition. It is the people who believe in this school and the students who walk through its doors. Our history gives us something worth protecting, and our future gives us something worth building.

Together, we will honor what makes Radford special, raise the bar for what is possible, and prepare our students not only to succeed, but to serve.

Welcome to the next chapter of Radford School.

Sincerely,

Carlos Martinez
President